

KHUDA BAKHSH ORIENTAL PUBLIC LIBRARY, PATNA

RULES FOR THE USE OF MANUSCRIPTS

The use of manuscripts of the Khuda Bakhsh Oriental Public Library is subject to the user's agreement to comply with the undermentioned rules and he/she commits himself/herself to abide by these rules by signing this form.

1. The use of microfilm of manuscripts and / or microfilm of manuscripts and other reproductions of the Khuda Bakhsh Oriental Public Library comprises the permission for scholarly use without the right of edition, but with the right of quotation in the general scope. The right for edition can be obtained on special permission from the Library. In case of publication the location of the manuscripts should be quoted as follows :-

KBL H.L. No. Cat. No.

The user will be required to donate two copies of the publication to the library.

2. When manuscripts are used in the reading room of the Library the user must fill in a loan request form for each manuscript requested by him.

As a rule, it is not possible to ask for more than one – manuscript, and in extraordinary cases, for more than three – manuscripts for use in the reading room at one time. Further manuscripts can only be obtained after these have been returned.

Users of our manuscripts commit themselves to handling them with care and to informing the library immediately if any damage which they may have caused themselves. The library will examine the manuscripts when they are returned whether they are complete and undamaged. Users of the manuscripts will be held fully responsible for any damage incurred by them.

3. Photographs and microfilms of manuscripts may only be made by the Library. Any request for such reproductions should be addressed to the Library. Photographs and microfilms made by the Library may not be passed on to any third party.
